Internoval incombine enables the newspapers to set before the public the cream skininged from the minds of talf a dozen may and to have from and spaning articles, can to have from and spaning articles, can be suppressed to the state of the public as to the length of their articles, but follow their own whom and tastes, from over-weening sanity or emissing for the judgment of the public.

The news from Washington is to the effect that Democrats are torn to pieces about the appointment of the standing committees, and that Cartiale is worried into stekarss. John Hancock, the ablest man from Texas, was not appointed chairman of any committee. Cata had no status erected to him, anorthing to custom, after he had held the effect of perfor, but he said it made no difference, since the absence of it would lead pumple to ask skip it was continued, and it will be the same with John Hancock's not listing a chairmanship. It will caste comment

Newsrareas, in order to achieve success, must study the taste of the public and provide just such a super as the public and provide just such a super as the peuple desire—just as a menchant must buy goods onited to the market. We are not here epecking of principle, but merely of the conduct of the paper—the puedeence of crisp juragraphia shary landers and variety of subjects to the sing-soul of political platitudes. There are men incapable of writing a crisp paragraph; everything from their peuts cane into treaties. "Goldmuth," said Dr. Johnson, "would make minnows talk like whales," meaning he could not suit his style to the subject, and that is the falling of one half of the editors.

sypte to the subject, and that is the failing of non-half of the editors.

This attack made by the Houston Post upon Major Bariow; personally, has elicited a good deal of comment and criticism, most of it decidedly adverse to the course of the Post, and the Lauri concurs in this condensation of the Post is violating the relies and customs of impersonal journalism. It is not Tom, Dick or Harry who speaks through the editorial coloring, the riles and customs of impersonal journalism in the three spusition and influence which it may have won. This is impersonal journalism in the frue sense and meaning of that phraze. The individuality and personality of the particular wenter is merged and lost in the character of the newspaper; it is the newspaper, which is intrinsacily well or a particular writer of a particular article speaks or a strain and the paper of the paper of discounterous, independently of the sauthorable, that is to say, the article speaks for itself. The Liouvi is conducted upon the plan of impersonal journalism—the paper speaks and not any particular writer and the paper does not reflect the humants, whime, thus and distinct for its editorial columns to conform to and maintain the views and policy if the paper regardless of the present optimize of the writer on the subject discussed. The Houston Fourier is a good gatherer of news, a good newspaper, but we cannot give it pusite for editorial actionity and neutrest, a fact shown by its attacking Major Batton personal on conformation, in a great measure, Caleses the door against their actions, since the newspaper talks and hot the more inflicted all penning an article.

Takes in Wace and Attends a Concert—
Interviewed by the Bohermans—Poor
Moistel and Business Dult.
The imposses red man of the Linuar accepted the special countesies of Mr. B. W. McColough, the live, popular Passenger Appent of the Missouri Pacific, last Felday, and took a flying city to the charming little city of Wace.
The trip on the way was pleasant and the train artised on these years pleasant and the rain artised on these, and after fasing on a dule collar and bracing on with a Whent Insummit he made his way for the Waco Female college building, where there was to be given a moniral and Jeanastic entertainment at night by the youing ladies of this spleadid school. The reputation of the fature that presented him and its representative was greeced with a heavy challing of hunds by both readness and popular, and he accepted a "ch. ha" from Mrs. Risintervall, the large principal, is see the show. The time was most pleasantly spent in silinessing an assection entertainment. The munical part was experiably for and reade a critical and income length that the singers' sail preferences were smallens. The first piece sendered was an overtice to Tancerall, by the archarate, what consisted of these planes, an singer, these and violis, with the following performers: Fest planes, Miss Nacile Smiller, Miss Maggie Johanon, Nannie Cookett; recond plane, Miss Jeale Johnson; organ, Miss Martle Mackey; Brite, Professor Loupold, violis, Professor Levision, The recitation of "The Little Gild in the Host;" by Rachard Reasundal, a Intire to year old girl, was a valuaral network facines.

The conic duet, "Easily and John," by Miss Famin Johnson and J. H. Yater, was and would have been creditable to many traveling professionals. The conic fuer, "Early and Jubo," by Mass Fannie Johnson and J. R. Vates, was a fine piece of acting and singing and was continuously applicable by the auditore anti-large were compelled to sing the earlier piece over again.

The Greeting of Spring cheras (Blue Dannie Waltz), was rendered shoot fastission charged.

The following were the singers: High expeans and salorit, Miss Fannie Johnson; actoud oppanes, Misses Lee Circ and Maggie Johnson; attout Lee Linkson; actual Wennets, Annie Beal Dean, Mame Magies, The Mermaid song was also nicely rendered.

Louis Womack, Annie Beal Dean, Mame Markey.

The Mermail tong war also mody rendered by Missas Famile Johnson, high seprence and mistit Annie Faum and Sophy Sanger, second seprences Matthe Mickey, Lunia Womack and Armie Beal Dean, alton.

"Neare My God to Thee," by the onloud their, accompanied by Mas Adda Shappard, on the organ, with three planes, fluir and violin, was very affecting and toushing, and doubtless made many in the middence feel haw wicked and airful they were.

The Flawer Girl (vocal salo), by Miss Fannie Johnson, completely captured the antisone. She was prescribed with a handsome basket of dowers, and Major Downa, of the exaginer, three all his losse change on the stage for a little button-hole becapter thrown at him.

The Calimbenics were executed with cursuge for a little business becaper thrown at him.

The Calimbranics were executed with con-seciness, and the different movements and marching looked like old soldiers.

In the Tournament of Edylcout, (Art vs. Nature) as allegory, Miss Hortense Heriz as Goldens of Art, Jennie Walker as Goldens of Nature, Hattle King as Justicla, and Nettle Boom as Poesy, were especially good in their respective characters, and deplayed omaider-shie demonsts talent.
